sideration of this measure was not concluded.

The session was somewhat enlivened by criticisms of former President Roosevelt by Representative Harrison, who denounced him for appointing representatives to the third maritime conference at Brussels next April without due authority of law, and for his alleged numerous violations of the civil service law.

When Representative Fitzgerald called attention to a letter from the secretary of the treasury requesting that government employes appointed temporarily and by executive order be placed on the permanent roll under the civil service law, Mr. Harrison of New York declared President Roosevelt had violated the spirit of the civil service law 16s times, or 15 more times than any of his predecessors.

Mr. Tawney, in charge of the bill, resented Mr. Harrison's charges.

Defending the former president, Representative Gillett of Massachusetts declared President Roosevelt had excepted a small number of persons compared with President Cleveland.

By a vote of 43 to 33 the appropriation for the employes for work in connection with the emergency currency was sustained.

The increased cost of living was brought into the debate by Representative Fitzgerald when the provision for an additional appropriation for army rations, because of the advance in prices, was discussed.

"It is the maladministration of the Republican party that has caused these increased prices," Mr. Fitzgerald declared, amid laughter on the Republican side. "You may as well make confession now," he added, "and be turned out of office instead of attempting to

SAVED CHILD FROM BURNING TO DEATH

Elkins, W. Va., Jan. 19.—As L. D. Coombs, a conductor of a Coal & Coke railroad passenger train was pulling out of Lelter on his afternoon trip yesterday, he saw in the doorway of J. W. Exling, a section hand, a 2-year-old child with its clothing in flames. Coombs was near the head-end of the train and jumped off, dashed into the dooryard, fought off a dog that tried to bite him,put out the flames with his bare hands and then, by sprinting, caught the rear platform of the last coach of his moving train. Passengers who watched with eager interest his fight with the dog vigorously applauded him as he passed through his train.

CANADIAN LEGISLATION FOR TRUST REGULATION

Ottawa, Ont., Jan 19.—Legislation marking a new epoch in trust regulations and giving Canadian consumers machinery for vigorous control of retail prices and methods of trade was presented to parliament yesterday by the government.

The Canadian measure does not aim to prevent or greatly restrict the organization of trusts, mergers or combinations. It recognizes them as essential to business growth, but seeks to give to the people means of preventing these monopolles from using their power to enhance prices or restrict competition to the detriment of the public.

Remedies of an effective character are placed within the gram of the control of the public.

Remedies of an effective character are placed within the grasp of the people in the proposed new law. Through the Canadian adaption of the English system of government, which gives the governor in council power to change tariff rates at any time the principle of the "Iowa idea" to give "no shelter to monopoly," is made immediately effective in the bill.

BOY WAS A GLUTTON FOR EXTRA STUDIES

Chicago, Jan. 19.—It took a double personality for Samuel Diamondstein to get all the education he wanted. School, as other boys attend it, was not enough for him. He lived a double life on the rolls of the schools he attended so that he might take courses in both day and night schools. He is 17 years old. At the John M. Swythe school he was Samuel Diamondstein, and he attended a night school under the name of Samuel Deemond.

After he had completed his studies at the night school, and received a diploma, he went to the Medill High school. Presently W. B. Hornbacker, principal of his former school, discovered that Diamondstein had violated the regulations by going to school both day and night and withdrew his certificate. Samuel protested and the matter was referred to Superintendent of School Mrs. Young, who has not yet made upher mind as to the merits of the case.

A Delicious Drink ENGLISH ELECTION FULL OF SURPRISES

Unionists Are Making Steady Gains but Not Enough to Defeat the Government.

LABORITES ARE BIG LOSERS.

Question of Large Navy Seemingly Has More Influence on Voters Than Tariff Reform.

London, Jan. 18 .- The Unionists had decidedly the better of the elections today. Of 44 seats contested, they won 21, of which 12 were represented by ministerialists in the last parliament. With the exception of North England,

Scotland and the big manufacturing towns the result of the polls shows a steady trend toward the fiscal policy of the Unionists, but, calculating returns thus far announced, the political ora-thus far announced, the political oracles maintain that this will not be sufficient to overcome the big Liberal majority obtained in 1906.

Of course there are many side issues, such as the cry of a weakened navy, which have influenced the voters, particularly at naval ports and in counties where landlords wield a great influence more Unionists gains may be expected.

ticularly at havai ports and in counties where landlords wield a great influence more Unionists gains may be expected.

There will have to be a big turn over, however, before the government is put out. A conservative estimate now places the Liberal-Labor majority over the Unionists at between 80 and 9).

This, with a compact party, would be a working majority, but with the unreliable Laborites, backed up by the Irish when it suited them, the government would have to go warily to avoid pitfalls.

The Laborites, it is true, are not likely to be so strong in the new parliament as in the last. They have already lost several seats, and several otheir members have won by parrow majorities.

This loss of ground by the workingmen's party has been one of the surprises of the election. After the issues of 1996, they thought they had formed the nucleus of what promised to be a powerful group. Suspicion that they opposed a larger navy, nevertheless, had its effect for the number of other opponents of the government's belated action in meeting Germany's building program also suffered defeat.

CONSOLATION FOR LIBERALS.

CONSOLATION FOR LIBERALS. The only consolation today for the Liberals was in their success in the Bermondsey division of Southwark, where the government candidate, H. J. Glanville, recaptured the seat, which went over to the Unionists in the byelection last November. J. Humphreys, who was elected tonight, had but one opportunity to pass the bar of the house, that being on the day of his introduction.

opportunity to pass the bar of the house, that being on the day of his introduction.

Fourteen of the London boroughs returned eight Liberals and six Unionists, as compared with 11 Liberals and three Unionists in the last parliament. The Unionists in the last parliament. End, a division of Tower Hamilets, where H. L. W. Lawson, manager of the Daily Telegraph, was elected, and one division of Liverpool. Many of the soats they won were Unionist before the great Liberal victory of 1908, and are returning to the Conservative fold. While there were not so many contests today as on Saturday and Monday, there were more prominent politicans with fortunes at stake. Two of these—Col. J. E. B. Seeley, under-secretary for the colonies, and R. K. Gauston, paymaster-general—lost their seats. The loss of Col. Seeley was especially severe for the government, as he has been the spokesman in the house of commons for the colonial office and was one of the younger men in line for promotion.

Three members of the cabinet, Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the board of trade; Sydney Charles Buxton, postmaster-general, and Walter Runciman, president of the board of education, retained their seats.

Mr. Churchill, with his Labor colleague, A. Wilkie, increased the majority usually given by Dundee. Sir W. S. Robson, the attorney-general, also holds his old seat for South Shields.

T. P. O'Connor's grip on the Scotland division of Liverpool was proved by the increase of 560 which he received over his big majority of four years ago.

On the othre side, among the prominent men who go back to Westminster are the Right Hon. A. H. Lyttlon, for St. George, Hanover Square; H. L. Lawson, son of Lord Burnham, who captured the Mile End seat, which he held before 1906, and which he once occupied as a Liberal; J. K. Foster, the prominent writer on fiscal questions, who won against Silas Hocking, the novelist, in Coventry.

The surprises which the suffragettes were expected to spring have not yet materialized. They have been actively canvassing against the government and have made a strong stand against Buxton today, but thus far they have not engaged in militant tactics.

The usual scenes occurred in the streets tonight when the returns were coming in, and even a larger crowd than on previous occasions gathered in the squares watching the screens.

ASQUITH TO CONSTITUENTS. On the othre side, among the promi

ASQUITH TO CONSTITUENTS.

ASQUITH TO CONSTITUENTS.

Premier Asquith, addressing his constituents at East Fife, said that the remarkable feature of the election so far was that, with two or three exceptions, such gains as had been secured by the Unionists had been in the small towns of England. The great centers of industry were nearly all solid for free trade, and whatever might happen, he said, one thing was certain, that in the new parliament tariff reform was a political limpossibility. No statesmanship, he added, however ingenious or audactious, could attempt to construct a tariff in defiance of the opinion of every one of the great centers of industry.

Questioned on home rule, the premier said that he could promise no legislation of any kind until they had settle their conclusions with the house of lords.

Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for liords.

Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, at a Liberal demonstration at Bridgewater, said he thought that he knew enough of the elections to be able to say with confidence that the budget was going through.

Lord Charles Beresford, in an interview, declared that as it was his belief that the naval question was responsible for the turnover of votes, he would demand an inquiry into the last four-years' administration of the admiralty.

Benton McMillen, former governor of Tennessee, who is in New York for a brief visit.

"The Democratic party's prospects are brighter every day," said the former governor, discussing the political situation. "This is the undoubted and inevitable result of Republican misrule, a $2,000,000 Congress and the worst of all the tariffs.

"No wonder we have recurring panics. The great wonder is that we ever get over them. No wonder that a revolution has ocurred out west. No wonder that the insurgents of the Republican party insurge. The earthquake has just begun. The Republicans are wholly to blame for the high cost of living, which is causing so much complaint and consternation. If the Democratic party will stand by its ancient principles, it cannot fail."

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Chicago, Jan. 19.—A correspondence course by which the $50,000 Sunday school teachers connected with the Methodist Episcopal denomination throughout the United States are to be instructed in better methods of teaching is recommended by the committee of education of the board of Sunday schools, which began its annual session here yesterday.

"This is the first attempt to introduce the correspondence methods as applied to individual training of teachers ever made in Sunday school work," said the Rev. Wade Crawford Barclay, who has been appointed educational director, "and we expect the board will endorso our plan."

ENCOUNTERED FIERCE SQUALLS

New York, Jan. 19.—The steamship Argos, which has just arrived from Seville and Gibraltar, encountered ferce squalls shortly after leaving the latter port. A giant wave swept entirely over the vessel, opening up deck plates, smashing the bridge and boats, staving in a hatch and flooding the cabins, completely ruining the contents. According to Capt. Dove, this weather kept up for three and a half days, during which time the vessel was hoved to and oil bags used continually to calm the heavy seas.
